ABSTRACT

The directory provides a listing of public and private noncollegiate postsecondary schools which offer one or more occupational programs leading to a certificate or degree below the baccalaureate level. The schools are listed alphabetically under the State and the city in which they are located. Information presented for each school includes the school number, name, address, and telephone number; vendor number used by the Office of Education; control or affiliation, type of school, and program accreditation; eligibility for the Federal Insured Student Loan Program and for veterans' education under the Veterans Administration; total enrollments; and type of occupational programs offered. The types of schools covered by the directory include vocational/technical, cosmetology/barber, business, flight, hospital, and home study; technical institutions; junior/community colleges; and four-year colleges and universities. Six tables present the distribution of postsecondary schools by various categories and full time/part time enrollments in these schools. A school index and a program index are provided. (Author/EC)

FOREWORD

In the last few years, increasing interest has been shown in schools which offer occupational training. This reflects the emphasis placed upon career education, eligibility of students in certain noncollegiate schools for Federal student aid, and the need for more precise information on the supply of trained manpower to use with demand data for manpower planning.

In 1971-72, the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) gathered information for two directories of schools which offer occupational training: Directory of Secondary Schools With Occupational Curriculums, 1971 (OE 73-11409), edited by Nicholas A. Osso, and Directory of Postsecondary Schools With Occupational Programs, 1971 (OE 73-11410), edited by Evelyn R. Kay. The demand for these directories and the need of student financial aid planners and others for current information at the postsecondary level have led to this updated edition of the postsecondary directory.

The directory listing includes public and private noncollegiate postsecondary schools which offer one or more occupational programs in preparation for a specific career. Similarly, 2- and 4-year colleges which offer occupational programs leading to a certificate or degree at less than the baccalaureate level are listed. Information presented for each school includes the address, telephone number, county, vendor number used by the U. S. Office of Education, accreditation, eligibility for the Federal Insured Student Loan Program and for veterans' education under the Veterans Administration, total enrollments, and types of occupational programs offered.

Data for this directory came from three sources. Information on college enrollments was taken from the Earned Degrees Conferred Form, Part C, of the 1972-73 Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS). Information on approximately half of the noncollegiate schools was abstracted from a survey form developed to prepare a forthcoming NCES report on Programs and Enrollments in Noncollegiate Postsecondary Career Schools, 1973. Information for the remaining noncollegiate schools came from a special updating project conducted within NCES.

Among noncollegiate postsecondary schools, a major task is to maintain a current listing of schools by identifying new ones, name changes, and school closings. This was done by using a variety of sources made available by national accrediting associations and by coordinators named by the States to assist in the Programs and Enrollments study. The Accreditation and Institutional Eligibility Staff of the Bureau of Postsecondary Education provided verification of accreditation status. Data processing and programing were supervised by William A. Combs of the Automatic Data Processing Branch of the U. S. Office of Education. Working with Mrs. Kay on this project were Barbara A. Whalen, Julianne C. Simpson, and Virginia G. Carter. Two summer employees, James Losey and Robert Waugh, also helped edit some of the data.

Some schools eligible for inclusion in this directory may have been inadvertently omitted. We would appreciate information on any omissions or corrections so that the next edition of this publication will be as comprehensive as possible. A form appears at the end of this publication to aid reporting these changes or additions. We would also welcome any suggestions as to format changes which will make subsequent editions more responsive to the needs of users.

A copy of a computer tape giving information on programs and enrollments in these schools can be obtained, at cost, through EDSTAT, National Center for Education Statistics, 400 Maryland Avenue, S. W., Washington, D. C. 20202.

INTRODUCTION

This directory lists public and private schools offering postsecondary occupational education. It is intended to meet the needs of manpower and educational planners at the Federal, State, and local levels and others who require more precise information on the current and potential supply of skilled workers. This directory should help, for example, to identify the types of programs offered at the local level in order to determine whether such programs should be expanded to meet projected demand for the occupation or be curtailed because demand is not anticipated. In vocational guidance, counselors may more easily identify those schools offering training for particular occupations in which students are interested. One potential use of the directory is of special interest to education researchers: it constitutes a basis for samples of schools for surveys designed to help answer some of the pressing problems occupational education currently faces.

Concepts and Definitions

For the purpose of this directory, occupational education is defined as educational instruction designed to: (1) prepare individuals for gainful employment in recognized occupations and/or new and emerging occupations; (2) assist individuals in making informed and meaningful occupational choices; and (3) upgrade or update the skills of individuals already in an occupational field.

An occupational education program is a planned sequence of courses leading to a specific occupational objective.

Only those public and private schools and institutions which offer specified instructional programs at the postsecondary level are included in the directory.[1] The types of listings include schools classified as vocational/technical, cosmetology/barber, business, flight, hospital, and home study; technical institutes; junior/community colleges; and 4-year colleges and universities. Excluded are museums, libraries, tutorial services, schools and community agencies which offer training in avocational or hobby courses, program activities sponsored independently by State or local education agencies, self-employed instructors, on-the-job training in industrial settings, formal labor/management apprenticeship programs, and other types of schools not open to the general public.

Criteria for Listing in This Directory

To be listed in this directory, public and private schools and institutions that offer postsecondary occupational programs below the baccalaureate level in the United States and its outlying areas must fall within one or more of the following categories:

1. Public schools approved by a State department of education
2. Public and private schools approved by a regional accrediting association recognized by the U. S. Office of Education (OE)
3. Private schools offering programs approved by an accrediting association or agency recognized by OE
4. Public and private schools meeting the requirements for eligibility for the Federal Insured Student Loan program by OE or for veterans' education programs by the Veterans Administration

Accreditation of all schools reported in this directory was verified by the OE Accreditation and Institutional Eligibility Staff. Approval for veterans' education programs was based on a list dated July 1974 provided by the Veterans Administration.

Accreditation

The U. S. Office of Education does not accredit, recommend, or approve any school or educational institution. It does, however, maintain a list of accrediting agencies and associations recognized by OE. In general, there are two types of accreditation: (a) institutional and (b) specialized or program.

Institutional accreditation is awarded by the secondary and postsecondary commissions of six regional accrediting associations. This type of accreditation applies to the total institution and signifies that the institution as a whole is achieving its objectives satisfactorily. The regional accrediting agencies, the States within their jurisdiction, and the abbreviations used in this directory are:

A New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools,
131 Middlesex Turnpike, Burlington, MA 01803:

Specialized or program accreditation is conferred by a number of organizations which are national in scope and represent a specialized area of study, such as cosmetology, practical nursing, or trade and technical education. Type of School. Definitions for the various types of schools at the postsecondary level of instruction were taken from the Standard Terminology for Curriculum and Instruction in Local and State School Systems (OE 23052). Schools were classified according to the types of occupational programs they offered. Because of ambiguity in some of the definitions, examples of programs offered by special-purpose schools are provided. Abbreviations used to indicate the type of school listed are:

Voc	Technical/vocational school--A public school that exclusively or principally provides occupational education to persons who have completed or left high school and are available for full-time study. Private special-purpose schools that offer the following programs are also included in this group: airline careers, auctioneering, commercial art, dog grooming, fashion design, floristry, housekeeping, interior design, medical and dental assisting, mortuary science, practical nursing, deep sea diving, and travel.

Tech	Technical institute--An institution (usually 2-year) offering instruction in one or more of the technologies at a level above the skilled trades and below the professional level.
Bus	Business/commercial school--A school offering programs in business occupations, such as accounting, data processing, and secretarial. Special-purpose schools that offer the following programs are included in this group: court reporting, finance, insurance, real estate, and sales.
Cos/Bar	Cosmetology and/or barber school--A school offering programs in beauty treatments, such as care and beautification of hair, complexion, and hands; and/or in barbering or men's hairstyling.
Flight	Flight school--A school offering programs for training as aircraft mechanic, commercial pilot, or work in other technical fields related to aviation.
Trade	Trade school--A school offering programs in one or more trades, such as auto mechanics, baking, bartending, carpetlaying, cooking, dealing, drafting, fireman training, ground maintenance, horseshoeing, laundering, locksmithing, meat processing, photography, police training, polygraph, radio/TV broadcasting, sewing-tailoring, Swedish massage, truck driving, and welding.
Home St	Home study school--A school offering instruction only through the systematic exchange between teacher and student of materials sent by mail. No facilities are available for resident students, except on a short-term basis.
Hosp	Hospital school--A hospital, sanatorium, or convalescent home offering instruction for medical and paramedical occupations.
Jr Col	Junior/community college--An institution offering the first 2 or 3 years of college instruction in occupational programs. It frequently grants a certificate or an associate degree but not a bachelor's degree.

Col	College--An institution offering instruction at the college level leading to a bachelor's or higher degree. It frequently offers occupational programs leading to an associate degree, diploma, or certificate below the baccalaureate.
Other	Schools or institutions not classified in any of the above groups include schools of modeling, dramatic arts, music, dance, brewing, maritime, and horsemanship.

Enrollment. For most schools, the enrollment figure shown is the total (including full-time and part-time) ever enrolled in occupational programs over a period of 1 year. Generally, enrollment data refer to the 1972-73 school year or to the 1973 calendar year, depending on the recordkeeping practices of the school. For colleges and junior/community colleges, however, the figure shown represents only those students who, in 1973, were awarded a certificate, associate degree, or diploma in one of the occupational programs. Where schools did not provide enrollment data, the space is left blank.

Accreditation. Abbreviations are used to indicate the school or program accreditation awarded, as of March 1975, by OE-approved accrediting bodies as listed under the section on Accreditation.

Eligibility. Abbreviations are used to indicate whether schools have established eligibility for the Federal Insured Student Loan program (FISL) or for the Veterans Administration (VA).

Programs. Only those instructional programs which are occupationally oriented are listed. Program titles are taken from the Standard Terminology for Curriculum and Instruction in Local and State School Systems (OE 23052) and A Taxonomy of Instructional Programs in Higher Education (OE 50064). See the section in appendix on Program Abbreviations for an alphabetical list of programs included in the directory and for the abbreviations used.

Special Note on Indexes

Two indexes are provided in this publication: a School Index and a Program Index.

The School Index is an alphabetical listing, by name of school, of all schools included in the directory. Each name is followed by a State and school number as a reference to its location in the directory.

The Program Index is a feature for use primarily for career guidance assistance. It lists 186 program offerings, followed by references to the schools that offer these programs. Used in conjunction with the U. S. Department of Labor's Occupational Outlook Handbook, 1974-75, the directory should prove valuable for teachers and guidance counselors.

Methodology

The 1971 universe listing of 11,731 accredited and unaccredited schools was used as the basis for developing the 1973 directory. State directors of vocational education were asked to notify NCES of any name and address changes and school closings or openings that occurred since 1971. Lists from other sources were also examined for new schools and for schools that were not reported in the 1971 directory. As a result of these efforts, more than 3,000 new names were added, making a total of nearly 15,000 schools to be surveyed.

Updated information on enrollments and program offerings of these schools was compiled through the use of several sources:

1. About 1,200 junior/community colleges and 4-year colleges and universities which offer occupational programs below the baccalaureate level were identified from the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) for 1972-73. Data on programs and number of degrees awarded were taken from the Earned Degrees Conferred schedule.

2. A random sample of 5,156 schools selected from the 1971 universe listing (excluding HEGIS schools) was made to collect detailed information on such items as length of programs, tuition and other charges, enrollments (full-time and part-time, age, sex, and ethnic group), completions, and type and sex of staff. The results of this survey will be published in a separate report. Information necessary for the universe and directory update was extracted from the questionnaire forms used in this survey.

3. The remaining 8,500 schools were sent questionnaire forms designed solely to update the universe and directory. A copy of the form appears in appendix B. Attempts were made to contact nonrespondents, first by mail and later by telephone. About 2,000 mailings were postmaster returns, some of which were remailed when a new address was found. Schools were considered closed if no telephone listing was found.

Of the nearly 15,000 schools surveyed, about 4,700 were deleted, leaving nearly 10,300 schools in the 1973 universe listing. From this listing, only accredited schools are included in this directory. In general, deleted schools were those which had closed since 1971, were duplicate listings, and were considered out of scope (did not offer occupational programs at the postsecondary level).

Comparability With 1971 Directory

Every effort has been made to keep the scope and definitions in both the universe and the directory listings compatible between the two years. However, certain differences should be noted. For the 1971 universe listing, names and addresses of schools were derived from lists sent in by the States. These lists contained schools which were approved to operate within the State but, as was later discovered, did not necessarily offer occupational programs. Questionnaire forms had been sent to all schools. However, some did not respond to the survey and others did not list their program offerings. Thus, it was difficult to identify whether the nonrespondents were really closed and whether the respondents who did not list programs did in fact offer occupational programs. As a result, these schools remained in the 1971 universe listing.

The 1973 survey weeded out many of these unconfirmed schools, some of which did not offer occupational programs at the postsecondary level, had closed, or had merged with another school. The following tabulation outlines the major differences between the two directory listings:

Item	1971 Directory	1973 Directory
Enrollment	Provided for public schools only. For HEGIS schools, enrollment figures refer to the total number of students in the institution.	Provided for both public and private schools. For HEGIS schools, only totals for associate degrees and other formal awards below the baccalaureate are shown.

Item	1971 Directory	1973 Directory
Program offerings	Not listed if the schools did not check their program offerings from a list of 160 programs.	Listed for all schools. Schools were asked to provide a list of program offerings which were then classified into their appropriate categories.
Number of schools	All schools provided by States were included. However, many of these State-approved schools did not offer occupational programs.	Deleted schools not offering occupational programs.
Type of school:
Hospital	All known hospital schools were listed.	To avoid double counting of students, deleted hospital schools which were administratively affiliated with a college.
Barber	Classified as trade school.	Combined with cosmetology schools since many started to combine their activities under the generic term "hair-styling."
Home study	Included some sales offices of correspondence schools.	To avoid double counting of students, deleted sales offices scattered throughout the United States and retained main offices only.
Other	Correctional institutions were included in the universe listing (but not included in the directory)	Deleted correctional institutions from universe listing on basis that these schools are not open to the general public.

Tabular Presentation

The following six tables show distributions of postsecondary schools by various categories and full-time/part-time enrollments in these schools. With the exception of tables 3b and 4, the source for these tables is the universe listing of 10,266 schools, which includes both accredited and nonaccredited schools. Because of the nature of the subject matter, table 4 includes only those schools (8,065) which are accredited or approved and therefore listed in this directory. For purposes of comparison, tables 3a and 3b together provide the type of school by type of control for both the universe and the accredited schools only.

Program Abbreviations

To conserve space in the directory listing, abbreviations or shortened names were used to indicate the various types of programs offered by a school.

Program titles are derived from the Standard Terminology for Curriculum and Instruction in Local and State School Systems, Handbook VI (OE 23052); and the Vocational Education and Occupations (OE 8061). Such program titles and codes are referred to as OE codes.

Also incorporated in the program titles are the occupational programs that were reported on the survey forms for the Earned Degrees Conferred, 1970-71, Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS). The source of these programs is A Taxonomy of Instructional Programs in Higher Education (OE 50064). Such program titles and codes are referred to as HEGIS codes.

The tabulation below provides the abbreviations used in the directory listing, the full name as it appears in the Program Index, and the associated OE and/or HEGIS codes:

PROGRAM INDEX

This section of the directory should be of great value to guidance counselors and students seeking names and addresses of schools offering occupational programs. For example, if a student wishes to locate a school of cosmetology in Texas, the Program Index will reference these schools.

The Program Index is arranged in alphabetical sequence by title of occupational program. This is followed by the abbreviation used in the main directory listing to designate types of program offerings. Users should also check references to related programs.

For purposes of clarity, some program titles needed further explanation regarding the kinds of occupations or the types of products associated with the program. In such cases, short explanations appear in parentheses.

Following the program titles and other information are coded references to schools which offer the programs. These references use a two-letter State abbreviation followed by a number; for example, MD 185 designates the 185th school in the State of Maryland. This can be quickly identified by referring to the directory listing under Maryland and locating the school numbered 185. State abbreviations are provided in appendix A; school numbers appear on the line just above their names in the directory listing.
